

Knitting our first blanket. I first learned to knit when I was about 8 years old. I was taught by an old family friend. I love creating new things and how relaxing knitting is.

-SW

Starting the second blanket. I first learned to crochet this year. I was taught by the art teacher at my school. I learned in order to help make blankets for orphans in Honduras.

-YS

The first completed knitted blanket. The completed blankets will be sent to Honduras for the orphans residing in Neuvo Paraiso. Neuvo Paraiso is an orphanage and living compound in Honduras.

-SW

The first completed crocheted blanket. Students from our school go to Honduras every year in order to help the children and people living in Neuvo Paraiso. They do construction and play with the children.

-YS

The completed blankets. The students also bring down donations and supplies for the people living in Nuevo Paraiso. During their next trip these blankets will be brought down in order to help keep the children warm and help the people caring for them.

-RR

These are some of the students who have gone to Honduras in order to help those in Nuevo Paraiso. In this way we have lived out the Corporal Work of Mercy, give alms to the poor. We hope to continue to help out the poor during this Year of Mercy.

-RR